

SMART SOLUTIONS IN ACTION

Ungaretti & Harris embraces the latest advancements in office technology to better serve their clients.

“GFC has been there with the right products and the right ideas, in a very seamless manner, to help us keep cutting-edge technology in place.”

Tom Fahey, Managing Partner
Ungaretti & Harris, LLP

Chicago, Illinois

The Challenge:

Ungaretti & Harris is a law firm with 220 lawyers and support staff in need of personal and direct service and support to keep on top of the frequent advances in office technology.

The Solution:

Nine years ago, the Gordon Flesch Company stepped in and provided a new office technology solution and a smooth transition. GFC has maintained a more personal and intimate working relationship with Ungaretti & Harris, and regularly proves they are committed to working through issues and maintaining an important, professional and responsive relationship.

The Result:

Ungaretti & Harris has stayed on top of the extraordinary advances in technology that have helped integrate internal communication, accounting and billing. Gordon Flesch Company has been there with the right products and the right ideas, offering service and support delivered by capable, communicative and professional personnel from top to bottom.
