elevITy
A GORDON FLESCH COMPANY

DAVID EICHKORN
vCIO

"Good listener, humble and intelligent – in that order," says David Eichkorn, who certainly embodies these characteristics, on the types of people who make the best vCIOs. David is a business-focused technology professional and has been with the Gordon Flesch Company for 17 years. Originally a member of the Internal Information Systems team, he has served as a vCIO and IT Services Architect for seven years in the Managed IT division, now Elevity.

"I work closely with our clients to understand what makes their business unique and the impact technology can have on their success," says David. "We're focused on safeguarding our clients' businesses through a process of strategic technology planning, cybersecurity risk analysis and operational support best practices that enable our clients to achieve high efficiency with their technology investments."

SMBs rely on technology as much as enterprise organizations do, and they need the same level of strategic guidance. Working with Elevity's Managed IT program, which is lead by a vCIO, provides the expertise needed to keep IT secure, reliable and aligned with our clients' goals and vision for success.

"vCIOs make IT expertise and strategic guidance attainable at the SMB level. We keep IT secure, reliable and aligned with our clients' goals and vision for success."

FUN FACT #1
- David started his IT career in 1995 as a network engineer helping small businesses with technology support in Southeastern Wisconsin and Western Michigans.

FUN FACT #2
- David spent several weeks in Harare, Zimbabwe to relocate a satellite office for an international charitable foundation.

FUN FACT #3
- David's wife is a former GFC employee. They met in 2006 while working on a software migration project. They married in 2007 and since then, their family has grown by three boys, two cats and several saltwater fish.

deichkorn@elevityIT.com

elevityIT.com